A Case Study

ReadyTech Centre of Excellence

In October, leading Australian software company, ReadyTech, proudly announced the opening of its new Launceston office and Centre of Excellence that will create new high quality job opportunities in Tasmania's growing ICT sector.

The Centre, located within St. Luke's Health Wellness Hub on Cimitiere Street, is housed in a cross-laminated timber building that incorporates innovation and sustainability.

ReadyTech's new office was aided by support from the Tasmanian Development Board in 2021, that would see it expand in Launceston and develop a Centre of Excellence.

The opening of the new office is an exciting milestone in ReadyTech's journey in Tasmania as the company continues to further its investment in the state and create more opportunities for up-and-coming tech talent as part of its Centre of Excellence Strategy.

The new workspace will see ReadyTech more than double its local workforce, growing to 90 staff, with many new roles focused on software engineering, AI and data science, product management and cybersecurity. The Company plans to partner with local education providers and collaborate with industry to develop tailored education and training programs.
