When I have looked at this previously it was not the cost of the bike that was the issue it was the cost of the person that blew out the costs. Several trips to Phillip Island we have looked at a trip down to Tasmania and getting a booking that did not involve several hundreds in cabin fees was the issue.

Have toured parts of Tas several times. Was there in Feb this year. Absolutely, positively would go more often, maybe annually if ferry was free and other mates would do the same.

Mark, discussion could take place on our 4 day excursion from the 13th June, but Jim and myself plus a couple of others have already voiced a possibility of heading to Tassie early next year to do exactly this, but the ferry option would probably not apply to us as we will be FIFO and hire bikes possible over in Tassie. Mates in Melbourne would take up the offer of free ferry to Tassies though I am sure.

Something worth considering rather than flying over the ditch and spending money on some other countries economy and instead helping out Tassie where it is definately needed.

THE 2020 Australian Motorcycle Grand Prix, scheduled for October 25 at Phillip Island, has been cancelled because of the coronavirus restrictions.

The four-day MotoGP weekend attracts more than 85,000 spectators and generates about $50 million each year.

The Australian Grand Prix Corporation and the sport's commercial rights holder Dorna made the call to cancel the GP. The British Grand Prix, to be held on August 16 at Silverstone, has also been cancelled.

No races have been held yet this year, but the organisers plan to start in July.

Australian rider Jack Miller, who was runner-up in last year's race, was disappointed he was not able to race in front of his fans at the island.

"It's my favourite track of the whole year and the best circuit in the world," he said.
